President's Message

I hope that everyone had a great holiday season. Now it's time to get back to work training and showing our Labs.

Many thanks to Nina Mann, Bea Ferguson, and Julie Germano for organizing the December Holiday Party. As the pictures in this newsletter show, we had fun playing the games Julie and Christina Bunn arranged for us.

By now you should already have received information about the club's Annual Awards Banquet on January 14 at the Liberty Theater in Puyallup. In addition to giving recognition to the outstanding accomplishments of our Labradors, we also show our appreciation to the large number of club members who chair and volunteer at our many events throughout the year.

Earlier that same day, PSLRA is supporting the entry and sweepstakes at the Sammamish Kennel Club show at the Fairgrounds in Puyallup. In a supported entry, the club provides special prizes for the winner in conformation. We also support a sweepstakes competition for puppies and for veterans. I hope you will come and watch the judging and stay around for the awards banquet.

Thanks to Stephanie Harris, the club's website provides a convenient, one-stop approach to renewing your membership and paying for the banquet. It will save you and the club a lot of time and effort if you use the website portal to pay for membership and for the banquet (via PayPal).

Towards the end of this month, PSLRA will have a booth at the annual Sportsman's Show at the Puyallup Fairgrounds. Admission to the show is free if you sign up to volunteer for a two-hour shift at the club booth. For more information, contact Tamaria Hartman at meluvalabs@gmail.com.

We will soon be publishing our events calendar for 2012, and you will see that there are many opportunities for members to chair, co-chair, or volunteer for the 2012 events. Right now, we are especially looking for individuals to chair our February 25 field training day and our April 7 Five Series and Working Certificate.

The field training day is important, because it presents an opportunity for members, especially new members and those with untrained puppies to find out how field events work and how their dogs respond to retrieving birds. The only cost to participants is a modest fee (usually $5) for each live bird. Members with experience in field work will be on hand to discuss safety, training basics, event rules, and more. Please volunteer.

We do have someone willing to be the entry secretary for the Five Series, so that will greatly reduce the work of the chair. Any takers?

Finally, a friendly reminder: It is time to renew your membership using the "Membership" tab on our home page at www.pslra.org.

Good luck to everyone and their dogs in 2012.

club businessDecember membership meeting

The December membership meeting was held at Julie Germano's building in Arlington on Saturday, December 10, 2011. The meeting was called to order by President Ron Perry, at 2:10 p.m. He thanked Bea and Nina for organizing the party, Julie for allowing us to use her building, and Julie and Christina for organizing the games. Ron also thanked Bea Ferguson, Mary Jane Sarbaugh and Terrie Sato for their service as they leave the Board of Directors. The 2012 slate of officers and directors is as follows. Staying on as President will be Ron Perry, as Vice President, Jill Mahoney, and as Treasurer, Gail Gegg. Sarah Fischer will be coming on as Secretary. Continuing as board members will be Nancy Harney, Stephanie Harris, Brenda Hubbard, Nina Mann and Franna Pitt. Coming on the Board for 2012 will be Fred Drennan, Kimberly Dotson, Cathy Hakola, Shelah Frey and Tamarina Hartman. Ron asked if there were any nominations from the floor.

There being none, it was M/S/V to close the nominations. Ron mentioned they held the November Board meeting by teleconference and that it had been very successful. We will continue to hold some meetings this way, which will cut down on winter travel for everyone. He announced the annual banquet would be held at the Liberty Theatre, which is walking distance from the fairgrounds in Puyallup. Stephanie Harris and Marlys Swanson are leading the ethics review committee and plan a face-to-face meeting during the weekend in Puyallup. They would like to get feedback from all the members on any changes they would like to see. We are doing more and more electronically. Currently the newsletter is mailed to only about 14 members. Everyone else receives it electronically. Members are also urged to renew their memberships electronically if possible, using PayPal. There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 2:20 p.m.

After five long years, in November 2011 Rollie finally finished his CD and thus also got his VCD1. He is now Applejax Sir Walter Raleigh VCD1, RE, TDX, NJP at ten and a half years old. He is still a hyper and excitable lab, who constantly has strangers on trails ask mistakenly if he is Bones' "daughter" (poor Rollie). This was his mom's first CD also. We give much thanks to Nancy Dyson for getting us there.

Update on Kodi

Although his new family just adored him, unfortunately Kodi became obsessive about stalking their beloved cat. Seriously concerned about the welfare of the cat, they sadly decided that they would have to return Kodi. Diane and Todd welcomed him back with open arms and Kodi was very happy to be "home" again. And although we discussed the possibility of other places for Kodi, Diane and Todd have decided that they would like to keep Kodi as a cherished part of their family. Lucky Kodi - he now has a permanent home and a guaranteed couch for the rest of his life!

Kodi happily back at home with Diane

US entries at Canadian Master National

by: Jean Fowler, Katie Quarles, Katie Mearns
Seven dog-handler teams from the United States joined 20 other Canadian teams to run the 2011 Canadian National Master. This year the test was held on the Ducks Unlimited Swallowfield Farm, Cowichan, Vancouver Island, Canada. Participants gathered on Sunday evening, August 14, at the Crofton Community Center for the Opening Ceremonies where judges, Kathy Burns, Marty Kress and Doug Hildibrand were introduced. The Cowichan Cultural Dance Group performed native dances and the evening culminated with the selection of the first dog to run, #14, Zaniri's Cheeky Monkey CD Am/Can MH WCX QFTR, owned and handled by Joanne Kinney.

Monday morning dawned clear with hardly any wind. Participants and supporters gathered outside the event headquarters, the historic Westholme Schoolhouse, and caravanned to the site of the first test, a land triple (all retired guns) with an honor. Handlers sat inside pop-up blinds for both the running and honor dogs that sat outside and in front of the blinds. Prior to beginning the test, we were treated to a duck call rendition of the Canadian and American National Anthems. Honorary Test Dog, Redstorm's Autumn Breeze MH, WCX made the first retrieve. At sixteen and a half, it was an emotional moment when Breeze retrieved her bird. Two test dogs were run on the complete triple before the field of 27 dogs began their day. In all, 4 Flat-Coated Retrievers, 8 Golden Retrievers and 15 Labrador Retrievers started the test. All dogs completed the triple and were carried on to the second series – a double land blind with two diversion shots. This series was completed by Monday afternoon and, once more, all dogs were called back to begin the third series on Tuesday.

We were again greeted by clear skies and almost no wind on Tuesday morning and caravanned to the water triple. It was a picturesque site. Dogs ran from the water's edge at the foot of a rocky bluff. The water was nearly glass smooth and reflected the cattails on the opposite shore as well as the occasional flock of Canada Geese that flew overhead. The triple was made very exciting for the dogs with the go bird being launched from high on the cliff to the dog's left just after they had watched a bird thrown 180 degrees to their right. Twenty-five dogs were carried to the next series – a water blind with a poison bird. Many dogs had difficulty with the blind and after eight dogs had been tested, the judges decided to scrap their test and call it a day. That evening several participants practiced the "sit-to-flush" ... Wednesday's test. This is something AKC Hunting Tests do not include and many of the American contestants wanted to have a bit more practice.

On Wednesday (another clear, sunny day) we were invited to run a new water blind in a tidal area. There was a significant amount of water on the line to the blind that included two points of land but as the morning wore on, the tide began to recede and the last few dogs who ran the blind had several gravel bars to contend with. Six dogs did not make the callback. After lunch, the gallery was moved to a bluff overlooking the field where the sit-to-flush was held. This was a much-anticipated series, especially for the U.S. contingent. The scenario had the working dog quartering the field before flushing a pheasant (dead and launched from a winger) that was "shot" by a gunner walking the line with the handler and judge. After the dog picked up that bird, he continued to quarter the field until he flushed a live, cock pheasant that was launched from a trap that was hidden in the tall grass. There was a great flapping of wings and cackling as the pheasant flew off. For both birds, dogs had to sit when the birds flushed and wait until the judge released the dog/handler. It was an exciting series and all dogs did very well. Only two dogs were tempted to chase the flyaway pheasant and they were brought under control in sufficient time so that all dogs were carried to Thursday's hunt. Wednesday evening everyone ate well at the workers banquet and went home with their loot from the silent auction.

Judge Marty Kress described Thursday's hunt as the "Main Course." It was a challenging water series: a quad with a water blind and an honor. There was only one gun station visible to the dogs, the rest of the gun stations were well hidden or retired in a layout blind. The instructions to the handlers were to have the dogs pick up two of the four birds down and then do the blind before picking up the remaining birds. This test was also held in a tidal area so the first dogs running had plenty of water to swim in while the last dogs had quite a bit of gravel/mud to contend with during their retrieves. Most dogs required a handle on one of the marks (not always the same one). When Louise Robert's dog, Streak, completed the series clean, the gallery went wild with cheers and applause. Five dogs were dropped after this series and 14 dogs were carried on to Friday's test – a land triple with a diversion bird.

Friday morning was cool, clear and crisp – almost fall like. Handlers were taken to a small field for another duck/goose hunt. The field was filled with very realistic goose and duck decoys – over 100 in a small area all in front of the running line. All guns were retired for this test and bird placement was challenging. The first bird down was a high-arching duck launched as an in-throw at the end of the field, then the right hand bird launched into heavy cover and finally the left hand/go bird launched along side of a hedgerow of blackberries. On returning from picking up that bird, a diversion bird was launched from the right side of the dog with a shot from the line. Dogs ran from in front of hay bales that were stacked two high with the handler sitting on a bucket behind the hay bales. The test went quickly and soon we were all assembled back at headquarters to await the judges' decision for who had qualified.

Handlers, workers, friends and supporters gathered under shade tents, a table was decorated with red and white rosettes on a red and white checked tablecloth (Canada's colors), and anticipation filled the air. A hush fell over the crowd as the judges walked to the table. Jim Girvan, Hunt Test Secretary, took a few moments to thank everyone who had helped make the event successful and the judges added their appreciations. At last the moment many had been waiting for arrived, announcing the qualifying teams. All 14 dogs that ran the final series qualified and received their rosettes and sterling duck band. After a champagne toast, photos were taken and the 2011 Canadian National Master was declared concluded. Five of this year's qualifiers were from the U.S. There are now 51 dogs that have qualified at a Canadian National Master since the program began in 2005.

The Canadians were terrific hosts and the event was well worth the time and treasure it took to participate. There is a new AKC rule that if a U.S. dog qualifies at the AKC Master National, they are automatically qualified to run in the Canadian National Master (with a reciprocal agreement for Canadian dogs who qualified at the Canadian National Master). In addition, an AKC registered dog who qualifies in two annual Canadian Hunting Tests is also qualified to participate in the Canadian National Master. Those of us who had fun on Vancouver Island this August, encourage all AKC Master Hunter owners to consider next year's event to be held in Ontario (only two hours from Niagara Falls).

1. Mail the completed form and a check for $10 (operating expenses for Breeder Listing and Puppy Referral Programs) to Jill Mahoney, PO Box 7454, Covington WA 98042.
 2. Your litter notice will appear in the next PSLRA newsletter if it conforms to the Code of Ethics.
 3. If you know that the Litter Listing and the Puppy Referral programs have helped you sell your puppies, please send a donation to PSLRA (c/o Jill Mahoney) to show your appreciation. These donations will all be used for Lab Rescue.

Very Easy going, Very laid back, has traveled to shows and trials since 6 months old, very well socialized. Up to date on vaccinations, micro chipped, current eye cerf & hip and elbow clearances. Has Obedience title, working certificate, agility legs, Can CH, Am CH major pointed, so he's very well behaved & trained. Does not mark in the house, has No dog/people/food aggression issues. Sleeps in the crate, sleeps loose, sleeps on the bed, Does Not chew, just loves to pack toys around, Not a barker, and not huge on retrieving, would rather carry toys around. He needs a Very Calm, Quiet, possible Only dog, or quiet older dog retirement home due to mild hip dysplasia. Sadly he is Not a surgery candidate. Needs a home with no major activity expected ie. Running, jumping, hunting, Stairs. Needs a home with No to very minimal stairs. We have 3 stairs in to our back yard and those are not an issue for him, but multiple repeated daily trips on long flights of stairs will Not work. Gets around great, can go for short walks but would excel as a couch potato. He will pick up anything you drop on command, very happy go lucky boy. Hate to place him as he's been with us since he was born, but hate to see him so sad because he can no longer go to the shows and agility trials and would love to find him a spoiled rotten retirement home. Living in our multiple young dog home is not really working for us. Perfect fit retirement home to spoil this boy is the priority.
